

Robert Cook

For Presidential Elector

Keeping America Great Through Ideals of Faith and Freedom

I am a Government and US History teacher for Powhatan High school, an Adjunct Instructor for Liberty University's Helms School of Government, and have been endorsed by Delegate Lee Ware and State Senate Candidate Philip Hamilton.

I am running for elector because I believe that our founding ideals should be the basis for how our vote in the electoral college is cast.

The ideals listed below are my reasons for casting our electoral vote for Donald Trump:

1. That America's founding is faith-based, beginning from the Great Awakening. This is evident in the Mayflower Compact drafted by the Pilgrims, and by our Declaration stating our inalienable rights are endowed by our Creator. This faith ideal is what made a system of government based on liberty and freedom.

2. Our rights are spiritually based, calling for all human beings to be treated with dignity. Material possessions are not the standard for equality—respect and dignity under the law are. This ideal is evident in Coolidge's speech on the 150th Anniversary of the Declaration, Washington's Farewell Address, and Jefferson's First Inaugural Address.

3. The Constitution must be upheld by our President and Donald Trump has done just that. He reshaped the federal courts, nominated Conservative justices, and has sought to curb unconstitutional bureaucratic regulations.

4. The Republican Creed encompasses these ideals. We are a nation founded upon Faith. It is intricately woven into our Declaration and our Constitution. These documents declare and protect freedom for all people. With this understanding, the Republican Creed fits:

Faith is the moral fiber that sustains us,
We are entitled to rights and liberties along with having civic responsibilities as citizens,
A truly free market will effectively meet all citizens' needs,
Government must be fiscally responsible,
It must respect the boundaries in our constitution,
and Support military strength to foster peace abroad.

Donald Trump respects and promotes these ideals, making him an easy choice for casting our electoral vote after the general election in November.

If you have any questions, feel free to email me at:

rcook31@alumni.jh.edu

Vote Robert Cook for Presidential Elector to help

Keep America Great Through Ideals of Faith and Freedom